WARRANT FOR A JANITRESS.

Hazel Hill Woman Accused of Slapping Neighbor's Girl.

A warrant charging assault and battery was issued yesterday by Justice John F. Rapp of Wellston against Mrs. Frank Mc-Mehon, janitress of Hazel Hill School in St. Louis County.

It appears that Rosie McMehon, a daughter of the janitress, attends the school at which her mother piles her avocation. In the room with Rosie is 10-year-old Pearl DeBord. Pearl is quick at learning and stands much higher in her classes than Rosie. As a result there is considerable which he transmit the two girls which, it ap-

The girls got into an argument last Tuesday over some small matter and Ida, an older sister of Pearl, is said to have slapped Rosie. Instead of slapping back she went with tearful eyes to her mother and related what had happened.

The very next morning Ida and Pearl went to the house of a Mrs. Noonan to fetch a pail of milk. Mrs. McMehon saw them coming and hid behind Mrs. Noonan's porch. Just as the girls reached the front door out jumped Mrs. McMehon. She at once set about slapping Ida with one hand, it is related, while she held her tightly with the other.

tightly with the other.

Both the girls set up a loud screaming, which attracted help. When Ida was rescued she had been thoroughly slapped and her hair was disheveled and dress forn. Ida's family were much incensed at the happening and Mr. DeBord had the warrant sworn out. The case was set for hearing on next Wednesday.

MONNETT DENOUNCES THE ADMINISTRATION.

Out for Bryan in Ringing Anti-Trust Speech.

M'KINLEY'S BROKEN PROMISES.

Has Not Enforced Anti-Trust Laws and the Unlawful Combinations Now Seek to Paralyze the Executive Arm.

Columbus, O., Oct. 12.-About 1.290 people attended a meeting to-night at the Columbus Auditorium, addressed by Frank S. Monnett, former Attorney General of Ohio; John R. Sovereign, former grand master workman of the Knights of Labor, and Val Fitzpatrick, grand vice chief of the Order of Railway Conductors.

Mr. Monnett's speech was devoted wholly o trusts, and contained the first public declaration of his intention to support Mr. Bryan. Mr. Monnett first reviewed the prosecutions against various trusts, combinations and monopolies which he had undertaken while Attorney General of the State.

He then went into the subject of Federal legislation against trusts and discussed the Sherman anti-trust law. He dwelt especially on the "evils of combinations in restraint of trade."

"William J. Bryan may not accomplish all that we expect, or all that we hope for in this behalf, but I believe him to be thorbughly honest, sincere and a determined man, and, while I do not agree with him in all that he advocates, yet I am forced to take one side or the other on this great question, which for the masses is the paramount issue, and, in the name of pa-triotism and for the sake of our Republic and to prevent the threatened danger that Senator John Sherman and the other Nes tors in the councils of our Government have so graphically prophesied, and whice believe will come to pass if not checked, I propose to cast my vote for that fearless, upright champion of the people, William J. Bryan."

MRS. WAINWRIGHT'S FUNERAL

Borne to Grave by Negroes, According to Her Request.

Wainwright, who dled Wednesday morning, took place yesterday from St. John's Episcopal Church, Hickory and Dolman streets, of which Mrs. Wainwright had been a communicant for more than half a century. The service was conducted by the Reverend Stephen H. Green, formerly pas-tor of St. John's Church, but at present located at Memphis, who came to St. Louis specially for the funeral. Father Green was assisted by the Reverend Carl N. Moller, rector of St. John's, who read the ritual at the cemetery. The floral offerings were elaborate. Two wagons were required to carry them from the church to the cemetery. In accordance with the wish of Mrs. Wainwright, the active pullbearers were negroes. The hon-orary pullbearers were: A. R. Donaldson, George Tinker, William Smith, F. W. Bie-binger and W. A. Haren. The funeral was in charge of Eberle & Keyes.

LIGHTNING PARCEL DELIVERY. Chicago Expects to Have Pneumatic Tube Service.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Chicago, Ill., Oct. 12.-It is expected that within a year Chicago will be equipped with a pneumatic tube commercial package delivery service which will surpass any-thing which has yet been planned for any city. The pipes will be placed upon the elevated railway frameworks. Negotiations have been entered into with the four different elevated roads, and through the business portion of the city at least the tube company will have the right to use the structures, in the outskirts the tubes will come down and go underground. The rallway companies claim that no legislative action is necessary. Compressed air will be the mo-ing $1,000 in United States bonds was placed for safe-keeping in the bank by a resident of Elizabeth. When he called at the bank to-day for the deposit it was found the envelope had been carefully slit open and the bonds abstracted. Judge Gilhooly, the bank's attorney, said the institution was responsible and the loss would be made good.

The furniture and personal effects of Mrs.

Hart, the woman upon whom young Schreiber Is said to have lavished the money of the Elizabethport Bank, was removed to-day to a storage warehouse by order of the Sheriff.

Three large vans were required to re-move all the contents of the huuriously furnished apartments. Mrs. Hart was present and augrily and tearfully protested against the removal of what she claimed to be her own personal property. It was reported to-night that one or mor persons familiar with the affairs of the Elizabethport Bank were suspected of hav-ing been confederates of Schreiber and that jurisdiction being settled, the prosecution will base its charg's against Mrs. Hart on section 29 of the penal code. This section states that any person concerned in crime shall be considered a principal in the act. Startling developments, it is asserted, may come out of all this, enabling the bank to recover $15,699 and Mrs. Hart to keep her property, and, what is more important, to be freed of all. When the writs were served first on Mrs. Hart she said she could prove that she had "other friends" who had given her the rich treasure, which the hank then claimed its defaulting bookkeeper had Another important case on the banc docket will be that of Slate ex rel. Attorney General Crow vs. the Continental Tobacco Company, otherwise known as "the Tobacco Trust case." The trust is being defended by Mesrs. Boyle, Priest & Lehmann, of St. Louis. This case is set for the first Gay of the call, Tuesday, November 12, 1999. The case of Morgan vs. Wabash Rallway Company, from Montgomery County, is set for Thursday, November 15. This case involves that feature of the law of torts known as the "humanitarian doctrine," which permits a recovery of damages in certain circumstances where the party suing is guilty of contributory negligence. The case was decided in Division No. 1 by Judge Valliant on June 12, 1999, and was carried to court in banc on the dissent of Judge Marshall. The court is known to be somewhat divided upon this question, and the decision will, therefore, be awaited with interest.

O. R. T. EXONERATES SECRETARY PERHAM.

Charges and Indorses His Administration.

POWELL'S FRIENDS OUSTED.

S. C. Mahany and Charles Daniels Removed From the Board of Directors-New President Not Named.

The charges preferred by former President Powell of the O. R. T. against Grand Secretary and Treasurer H. B. Perham were investigated by the Grand Council, and after a full consideration of all the evidence Perham was adjudged not guilty and completely exonerated.

In order to emphasize its approval of Secretary Perham's course a resolution was adopted by the convention stating that the members felt profoundly grateful to him for the zealous manner in which he had guarded their interests and defended the funds of the organization,

The disposition of the Perham case was only part of the aftermath of the rumpus raised in the organization by the Powell-Perham controversy. After passing a vote of confidence in Per-ham's favor, the delegates proceeded to Republican Congressional Nominee consider charges against other members and to make such other changes as were deemed justifiable. A. C. Mahany and Charles Dan-iels, friends of Powell, were removed from the Board of Directors.

S. W. Hiller, chairman of the Committee on Constitution, who had been deposed by Powell, was reinstated. F. W. Barron, chairman of Missouri Pacific Branch, No. 31, who had been deposed, was also reinstated. F. W. McCallench, was declared the duly elect. W. McCullough was declared the duly elected secretary and treasurer of Missouri Pa cific No. 21, vice S. C. Mahany, deposed. George Estes was reinstated as general chairman of Southern Pacific, No. 53, vice

No successor to President Powell has yet been elected, and it is not certain that one will be at this convention. In the interim between the expulsion of Powell and the election of his successor First Vice President M. M. Dolphin of Kansas City acts as head of the order.

After the transaction of routine business yesterday evening the convention was addressed by Grand Councilman P. H. Morrissey of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and John T. Wilson, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Railway Trackmen. The addresses of both officers of brother lodges were highly appreciated and a vote of thanks was tendered them by the convention. vention.

Ex-Grand President D. G. Ramsay, whose name has been prominently mentioned as the successor of ex-President Powell, when asked if he would work for the presidency, asked if he would work for the presidency, said:

"I will not, nor can I accept it. I appreciate sincerely the effort of my friends to procure the honor for me, but I cannot accept it under any circumstances. My business in Chicago demands all my time and I would not be president of the Order of Railway Telegraphers unless I was in a position to give to the office the time and attention it deserves."

Fred A. Hailock, delegate from Buffalo, N. Y., became sick yesterday and had to be removed to St. Luke's Hospital. His condition is not considered serious.

This afternoon the delegates will visit Anhouser-Busch's brewery, and, after inspecting the brewery, will partake of a lunch prepared in their honor.

while in the city, the fourth biennial convention of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Brotherhood of Raliway Trainmen was brought to a close yesterday afternon.

The session was called to order promptly at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, and the members proceeded at once to the election of the new Executive Board. Mrs. Mary Connell of Denver, Colo.; Mrs. Lena Stanford of St. Lottis and Mrs. M. McLean of Boston, Mass., were elected, to serve for the two ensuing years.

At the afternoon session there was quite a contest over the place for holding the next biennial convention. The cities of Cleveland, O., and Denver, Colo., were the two most prominent candidates for the honor, and, after considerable balloting, the result was announced in favor of Cleveland.

After planning the details of the next convention as far as possible, the convention adjourned sine die. Many of the delegates returned home last night, and the badge of the order was quite prominent at the Union Station, where a large number of the delegates enthusiastically discussed the success of the convention.

SYNODS TO CO-OPERATE. Presbyterians Will Work to Fur-

CANDIDATE HORTON A MAN OF MYSTERY.

Has Made Only One Publie Appearance.

NEGLECTS HIS APPOINTMENTS.

Railroad Men's Organization Waits Several Hours in Vain for His Coming-But Other Dates Are Announced.

The mysterious movements of W. M. Horton, the Republican candidate for Congress in the Twelfth District, have been the cause of much comment,

So far the public appearance of Mr. Horton in the district has been confined to the meeting at Twenty-ninth and Pine streets last week. His debut in the political arena has for some cause or other suffered from a severe frost.

The will-o'-the-wisp movements of the Republican nominee have resulted in a general understanding that he is making slight effort or at least a very ineffective effort to secure an election. Mr. Horton has disappointed audiences several times in the last month. He has been advertised to speak, but so far he has only appeared once. The meeting held by the railroad men's Republican organization last night at the corner of Fourth and Washington was attended by quite a num-ber of Republican politicians anxious to hear Mr. Horton. The gentleman hal been advertised as the crater of the evening, but for some reason he did not appear. Those who were present sat through several hours of speech-making by various other gentlemen, but they waited in vain for Mr. Horion. There was a rumor to the effect that he had been in the hall earlier in the evening, but when it came time for him to appear the meeting was suddenly adjourned.

The Congressional Committee of the Tweifth District met last night at its head-quarters at the corner of Olive street and Broadway, and it was given out that Mr. Horton was present, but nothing was seen of him around headquarters. Secretary Horace Beedle said that the gentleman would make a speech at the meeting of would make a speech at the meeting of Chris Schawacker's Fifth Ward Club at Druids' Hall Monday night. After that the secretary vouches for the statement that a series of ward meetings will be held at which the Republican nominee will be pres-ent. The committee wrestled with ques-tions until a late hour last night, but Mr. Horton seemed to have completely disap-peared as if the earth had swallowed him.

ARGUMENT ANSWERS ITSELF.

Republicans' Own Figures Show That Wages Decreased Under McKinley. The secretary of the Railway and Telegraph Employes' Political League, which has its national headquarters in the Great Northern building, in Chicago, has distributed, in the interest of the Republican party, several million copies of a circular containing statistics designed to show all telegraphers and railway employes that their wages have increased under McKintey's administration. This is a sample of one of the campaign documents which the Republican party managers are giving the voters to make them believe, by a juggling of figures, that they are and will be more prespectous under Republican rule than under a Democratic administration.

One of these effculars fell into the hands of a Republican railway employe, who is going to vote for Bryan and Dockery this fail, who, after a little figuring of his own, for he is an intelligent man, sent it to The Republic, with his comments thereon.

The circular is denominated "an extract from reports of the Interstate Commerce Commission for years ending June 20, 1856, and June 20, 1859, showing gross earnings of all railroads in the United States during the years named, wages paid to employes, and number of employes." The figures follow:

June June 20, 1859, 1850, 28, 1999. Increase. Northern building, in Chicago, has dis-

Gross earnings $1,95,171,62 $1,312,69,118 $23,125,56
Wares and salaries. 46,588,81 $22,987,998 77,69,635
Number of em-Number of employes 18,624 125,924 145,539 playes.

"These figures," comments the railroad employe, "ostensibly show that the wages and salaries of the employes have increased, under McKinley's term, $77,429,635 more than under the term of his predecessor, and the average unthinking mechanic would accept those figures and shout for McKinley and prosperity However, by a little simple figuring we find that the number of employes has increased under McKinley's term out of all proportion to the increase of wages, and a simple sum in division will demonstrate that whereas, under the Democratic administration ending in 1856 the average wages earned by each employe was $57,50 per annum, they only earned under McKinley and prosperity $52,29, a decrease of more than $4,50 in the yearly earnings of each employe. The railroads did not suffer any decrease, however, did they? Who is responsible for the discrepancy?"

FAUNTLEROY TO TAKE THE STUMP. Democratic State Committee Enlists the Services of Former Republican. Cornelius H. Fauntleroy, the young attorney whose defection from the ranks of the Republican party, as published in yesterday's Republic, has created wide comment among local Republicans, has suddenly found himself, involuntarily, though none the less agreeably and willingly, drafted into the ranks of speakers attached to the bureau of the Democratic State Committee. The honor came to him unexpectedly by reason of the publicity given him in The reason of the publicity given him in The Republic.

The ink was scarcely dry on the article containing Mr. Fauntieroy's reasons for forsaking the party be had earnestly supported for years when the account was read by C. P. Spieler, president of the Democratic Club of Moniteau County. Mr. Spieler knows a good thing when he sees it, and when Chairman Selbert arrived at Democratic State headquarters in the Laclede building early yesteriay morning he found awaiting him a telegram from Mr. Spieler, addressed to Mr. Fauntieroy, asking him to come to Moniteau at once to deliver a speech.

Mr. Seibert sent for Mr. Fauntieroy and turned over the telegram, and Mr. Fauntieroy said he would be glad to comply with the request.

"I was not expecting anything of this kind, and am not prepared for it, but I am heartily in sympathy with Bryan and the principles he stands for, and will willingly devote my time to assist the cause in any way I can.

"I can't conseive." he continued, "how any same man or intelligent voter can support McKinley and the policy he stands for. When I, with thousands of others, voted for McKinley in 1896, we could not have fotescen nor even conceived how he could, in four years' time, have undergone such a metamorphosis as to deliberately spit upon the Constitution and besmirch the Declaration of Independence, as he is doing to-day, limperialism is the paramount issue to-day, and this fact cannot be given too much prominence.

"My father, who has always been a Republican, and who voted for McKinley in 1896, has also deserted his cause, and will vote for Bryan in November."

Mr. Fauntieroy will speak in Moniteau County, prohably in Clarksburg, Monday. The date was assigned by Chairman Seibert, who notified Mr. Spieler to that effect.

Same Old Gang Runs Things, but He Is No Longer Leader. Mayor Ziegenhein is beginning to flock by himself. The change has been only in the leader-ship.

The Mayor is now being forced to swal-low the same sort of a bitter pill that he was instrumental in giving Chauncey L. Filley. Since the City Convention the Mayor has become as glum as the prover-bial clam, and the wordy encounter he had with August Gehner in the lobby of the Planters Hotel has set him to thinking deeply. leeply.

"I waited nearly all afternoon and no one showed up."

"But why didn't you attend the caucus the night before?" was asked.

"I know nothing about that caucus. I was not present. I had no hand in the matter," and the Mayor refused to discuss the subject further.

It seems to be a tender spet with him and the subsequent events have rendered him exceedingly frigid to all the local Republican leaders. His turning down is freely admitted by local Republicans and the question as to who will control the machine in the future is passed up without answer. The real leader will prove to be Collector Charles F. Wenneker, who aspires to the Mayoralty nomination. Wenneker is quietly at work and the City Hall machine seems to be united upon him. The whole gang of Republicans are now interested in the coming spring election to such an extent that the slate probably will be made up before the general election returns have been allowed to cool.

NOONDAY MEETINGS GROWING. Auditorium in the Carleton Building Is Crowded Daily.

Yesterday's noonday meeting at the Jefferson Club downtown quarters in the Carleton building was one of the most interestton building was one of the most interesting yet held. The fame of these meetings and the high reputation of the speakers who address the audiences has spread throughout the city to such an extent that citizens travel all the way in from the western limits of the city to attend these political revivals, and "commuters" from the suburbs now include as a part of their urban itinerary a visit to the Carleton building at noon, where they may be entertuined and instructed in the history of the issues now confronting the American people.

The audiences which have been attracted to these meetings within the last three days have been so large as to overcrowd the auditorium, and the managers of the Jefferson Club are now considering the advisability of enharcing the auditorium by adding to it the two large vacant apartments adjoining it to the north, and converting the three rooms into one by removing the partitions. This is a matter that will be determined at the next meeting of the Executive Committee of the club.

The speakers at yesterday's meeting were Thomas P. Rixey, State Labor Commissioner; Sterling P. Bond, and J. W. Evans of Kirkwood, who held the attention of the audience for nearly two hours. To-day's meeting will be addressed by Doctor May's field and other speakers from out of town. ing yet held. The fame of these meetings

Rozier at Moberly. REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Moberly, Mo., Oct. 12.—Edward A. Rozier of St. Louis spoke to a fair-sized crowd. His address contained nothing new, entertaining or instructive, but was the same stock speech of all the average Republican stump talkers.

Political Notes. Political Notes.

The Workingmen's Bryan Club held an enthusiastic meeting at the hall at No. 608 Market street last night. There were more than 299 members present, and the enthusiasm manifested was encouraging to the Democrats, who participated in the meeting. C. W. Perkins, Joe Ingalls of Scotland County and S. M. Ryan were the speakers. Mr. Ingalls made a splendid speech, which was greatly enjoyed by those present. He spoke on national issues and handled the Republicans with two-ounce gloves. After the meeting he was complimented by almost every auditor.

IN IT TEN YEARS.

An Unconscious Slave to Coffee.

"I had not the slightest idea that coffee was the cause of my continued sickness for the last ten years until I quit its use and took up Postum Food Coffee. I never had a natural movement of the bowels during a number of years, because of chronic constipation, and I was constantly under the influence of medicine.

"Very frequently just after breakfast a dizziness would come on, which would force me to lie down and remain absolutely quiet until relief came. I was also the victim of severe headaches, and miscrable all the time. Two years ago last October it suddenly occurred to me that it was possible coffee was the real cause of my trouble. "I therefore procured a package of Postum Food Coffee and began its use in place of coffee. At first trial I did not like it, and found some difficulty in sticking to my resolution, but I persevered and soon discovered that I had not made it properly. When it is boiled long enough, it has a delictous Java coffee taste and a beautiful, deep rich brown color, altogether it makes a charming beverage."

"I soon grew very fond of it; in fact,
I liked it better than I did the old coffee, I liked it better than I did the old coffee. A very little change in my health occurred and this gradually increased, until in about two months I discovered a marked change began to manifest itself. The bowels resumed their natural functions and the old dizzy feeling disappeared entirely, also the headaches.

"This complete change in health fixed my mind permanently and forever, never, under any circumstances, to go back to a drug that had held me a slave for ten long years. A curious thing about all this is that people do not realize the cause of their troubles. They go on year after year, just as I had, in drugging themselves with something that holds them in a condition of sickness and they don't seem to wake up to understand what it is that is the cause of the trouble. If such people could bring themselves to leave off coffee and use Postum Food Coffee, the trial would tell its own tale. Please omit my name." Name and address will be given by Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich.
